Smarter travel comes with better benefits

Independence and control

Concur's travel solution works with any travel management company, corporate credit card provider or GDS. Robust business rules combined with automated pre-trip approval ensure consistent travel policy enforcement – putting organizations in complete control of their corporate travel booking process.

Easy online travel booking

From a single, intuitive Web-based interface, travelers can quickly and simultaneously book local and international flights, rental car, hotel and rail reservations guided by your organization's specific policies.

Broad travel inventory

Concur's technology is independent of any travel agency or GDS. Plus, Concur maintains exclusive direct connect partnerships – enabling the delivery of a broad selection of inventory and services unavailable through traditional travel programs. This allows Concur to help organizations streamline and drive costs out of their business.

E-receipts

After travel, participating travel suppliers – including many of the world's major airline carriers, hotel chains and rental car companies – automatically deliver complete electronic folio data in the form of e-receipts directly into a traveler's Concur expense report.

Concur matches travel booking information with credit card charges and electronic receipts to create a secure system of checks and balances for your company's spending.

Reduced travel booking fees

Easy-to-use tools drive adoption, which reduces program leakage and reliance on travel agent-assisted reservations. This can significantly cut fees associated with booking travel by as much as 79 percent per booking transaction*.

Increased visibility through analysis and reporting

Extensive reporting and analytics makes it easy to capture, consolidate and present travel spend data. Managers can drive down costs with time-sensitive information to conduct spending analyses and forecasts while leveraging negotiated discounts.
